UTOPIA VIDEO DOOR PHONES

But you still haven't found a video door phone capable of expressing all your passion for innovation. You are looking for advanced technology and above all a stunning, classy design.

This is Utopia!

Urmet had you in mind and created Utopia.

Utopia is more than just a video door phone.

It is style, elegance, future, surprise and charm.

Utopia is everything you have always wanted from a home accessory applied to the instrument you use to welcome your guests.

Utopia is here.

Design and technology.

Utopia satisfies your search for stylish design with the confidence that you are taking the state-of-the-art in video door phone technology home with you.

Its TFT 4" display guarantees bright, perfect pictures from all angles.

The speaker is separate from the microphone and the volume can be adjusted.

A green LED will light up on the monitor when the mute function is on. The door lock button is illuminated while the display is on. A red LED will appear if the door is left open.

Monitor colour, brightness and contrast are adjustable.

Utopia has three supplementary service buttons for opening a secondary door or switching on the staircase lights, for instance.

Urmet technology can also be exploited to connect several monitors in parallel and create intercom systems with up to four devices. Utopia offers another outstanding advantage: no brickwork is needed to install the system. Just use the brackets. It's as easy as that!

Urmet Utopia: technology and design at their best.

Beyond unreachable utopia.

Classy design.

Utopia is a Urmet project created by Architect De Lucchi, a leading modern industrial designer.

Take a closer look. Touch its pure, delicate lines.

Imagine it installed on the wall of your home.

Enjoy the modern, innovative combination of materials and colours.

Utopia. Yours at last.
